Purpose

This procedure describes the physical and administrative arrangements to be implemented within the University for the provision of adequate first aid services.

These arrangements, to be read in conjunction with the Incident and Emergency Management Procedure, aim to:
• comply with legal and community expectations regarding the duty of care owed to injured or sick people; and
• ensure University compliance with relevant requirements of Occupational Health and Safety legislation.

Scope

This procedure applies to all Faculties, Colleges, Directorates, and Centres of Federation University Australia.

Legislative Context

• Occupational Health and Safety Act 2004 (Vic)
• Occupational Health and Safety Regulations 2007 (Vic)

B. Ensuring adequate numbers of University First Aiders are provided

Supervisor/Manager

1. Determine, in consultation with the Health and Safety Representative(s), the minimum number of University First Aiders for each campus location and each off-campus activity, using the following ratios as a guide [see Note 1]:

Class "A": one University First Aider readily available for 35

</tbody>

Class "B": one University First Aider readily available for 50 people present at any one time (staff, students and customers).

Class "C": one University First Aider readily available for 100 people present at any one time (staff, students and customers).

Note 1: When determining the appropriate number of University First Aiders, consider:
- absences due to leave or other reasons, and unavailability due to lecturing or other commitments;
- the availability of non-University First Aiders or medical support (e.g. when visiting public or private organizations);
- the geographical spread and possible isolation of people in the Faculty/Directorate/College/ Centre, sub-unit, excursion group, etc.; and
- times outside of normal working hours when staff, students or customers can be expected to be working or using University facilities (e.g. Library).

1. Ensure the minimum of University First Aiders is provided for each campus location and each off-campus activity you control.

C. Ensuring adequate numbers of first aid kits are provided
