Purpose

This procedure outlines the framework for administering philanthropic gifts to Federation University Australia and the Federation University Australia Foundation. The Advancement Unit is responsible for the processing, receipting and reporting of all philanthropic income for Federation University Australia.

The procedure seeks to be compliant with all relevant Australian charitable and tax legislation.

The purpose of this procedure is to:

- Identify when income should be classified as a "gift";
- Ensure that Federation University Australia ("the University") maintains its deductible gift recipient DGR status with the Australian Taxation Office ATO;
- Maximise benefits received from fundraising opportunities and gifts
- Ensure accountability and transparency of financial transactions
- Ensure that all communication between the University and the Donor is concise with regards to the receipt and application of the donated funds;

- Outline the procedure for fundraising and gift arrangements for the University; and
- Create a framework for the use and promotion of the University's status as an ATO endorsed DGR.

Scope

All areas within Federation University Australia, including the Federation University Australia Foundation.

The scope of this procedure includes gifts of money and property such as real estate, shares, stock and equipment, and cultural gifts. Donors may be individuals, corporations, charitable trusts, foundations, private ancillary funds (PAFs) and other organisations.

Please refer to the Research Office for all research funding activities and donor management, and gifts of cultural materials (artworks, historical material, library materials) to the Director, Library Services.

Exclusions

The following are not philanthropic gifts, and are excluded from this policy:

- · Government funds
- · Researching funding activities and donor management
- Cultural gifts and donations of historical materials, artworks and Library-type materials
- Commercial income including sponsorships
- Services provided at no charge (pro bono services)
- · Gifts or benefits offered to staff
